BY STEVENS T. MASON, Governor in and over the State of Michigan. Governor in and over the State of Michigan.

Whereas, by the sixth section of an act of Congress, passed the 20th day of April, 1818, it is declared. "That if any person shall, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, begin or set on foot, and provide or prepare the means, for any military expedition or enterprise, to be carried on from thence against the territories or dominions of any foreign Prince or state, or of any colony, district or people, with whom the U. States are at peace; any person or persons so offending shall be declared guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding three thousand dollars, and imprisoned not more than offending shall be declared guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding three thousand dellars, and imprisoned not more than

And whereas, by direction of the Precident of the United States, my attention has been requested to any movements of the character designated in the the act above cited, within this State, and my inteference desired, to arrest the parties concerned, should any preparations be made of a hostile nature, against any foreign power in amity with the United States.

Now therefore, in compliance with the request of the President of the United States, and in view of the popular commotions now existing in the Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, I do hereby caution, and enjoin upon all good citizens of this state, and all other persons whomsoever, resident or being within our borders, to abstain and desist from the commission of any act which may, in the least degree, violatthe laws of the United tates, or disturb thpeace and amity now existing between the people of this Union and the government of Great

Anecdotes of Animal Instinct, -- In a pa per in the June number of the Bibliotheque Universalle de Geneve (so ably edited by M. de la Rive, who read several papers a: the recent meeting of the British Association) there are some curious anecdotes, tending to prove how near, if not quite, to the power of reasoning the action of ani-mals approach. Two men, who were about to waik to Vevey, agreed to meet at an appointed place. One of them, who arrived first, fancying he was to late, resolved to push on and overtake his comrade; but his dog showed symptoms of disliking this proceeding. He ran backwards and forwards lingered behind, and at length totally disappeared, but speedily returned with the walkng stick of the second person in his mouth. He had come late, and sat down to wait for his friend, but the sagacity of the animal resorted to this evident means of teaching them their relative positions and bringing them together. Another dog which they were trying to teach to mount a ladder got so tired of his lesson that he ran away; but next day he returned alone to the tadder, and applied himself to the task just as if his vanity had been piqued into learning the exercise. A third dog that had been taught to carry a lantern with its owner, on winter mornings before day-light, as the latter carried milk to a neighboring farmer happened one day to be shut up when his master departed. When loosened, he ran after and overtook him, but, perceiving that he had not the lantern, he returned to the house, and causing it to be given to him again hastened to his accustomed light work. Another belonging to a young student, whose master while bathing, hid himself among some rushes, was hallooed into the water, as if an accident had happened, when, instead of plunging he ran lower down the rapid stream, and took his station watching the river, where it was most likely to bring down the body for rescue. We conclude with one fact more, relating to an animal of which we have been used to consider innocence, rather than wisdom, the characteristic. A Pigeon familiarized to the kitchen, where it was fed and caressed. one day witnessed the killing of a rullet, and it immediately flew away and never returned to the scene of slaughter! The kitchen death of a chicken is not very unlike the death of a dove, and the warning was not lost.

A Blazing Meteor .- A meteor was lately seen over the village of Macon, Brazil, of immense size, and such brilliancy, as to be visible at the distance of sixty leagues H. N. Baldwin, (cash.) from that place. Its explosion produced P. G. Hughes. a sound like that of thunder; and the shower P. Farrand, of fragments that succeeded, spread over Daniel Gidley. a surface of more than ten lengues. The portions found varied in weight from one to eighty pounds, and they fell with such vio-P. G. Hughes, lence as to kill many cattle.

A Home.—A jail in Maryland was lately Charles Delong, broken open, and seven convicts escaped. Giles Bloomfield, One other prisoner had the same opportunity, and was urged to go with the rest, but he absolutely refused, saying it was the most comfortable quarters he had enjoyed for a long time, and he had no notion for exchanging a certainty for an uncertainty in these hard times!—Be it ever so bumble, there's no place like home.

Our Country in 1837.--What will the Union be fifty years from this day! This that we should not make our love known, cloud by day and the pillow of fire by night. is one of the hardest trials a man can unfor the world to follow in their march of dergo. It asks the more of us, because the civilization refinement. The morning of passion is the most secret in our natures .-1887 will down upon this nation doubled in All sympathy is distasteful except that of extent, with Michigan, Wisconsin and one being, and that, in such a case, we must lowa, as the centre of civilization, and the deny ourselves. Bank of Lapeer, March 13, 1838. The capital stock of this back is fifty housand dollars. The books of subscription were opened on the 19th day of Octo ber, A. D. 1837. At that time the whole amount was subscribed, and on distribution of the stock, the ten per cent. on the several shares was paid in, in specie. Some of ral shares was paid in, in specie. Some of the subscribers did not pay in their full a-mount, but others overpaid, so that the ten per cent, on the whole stock was paid in. This was paid in as the property of the bank, but a part was withdrawn by the sub-scribers and paid back to them. The bank went into operation on the sixth or eighth day of December last, previous to which time the full amount of thirty per cent. on the capital stock was paid in; a part of the amount was in gold and silver, but the greater part of it was in specie certificate, issued by the Farmers' and Mechanics Bank at Detroit. There was but one specie certificate, and the amount was appl on different subscriptions of stock. certificate was obtained and brought forward by Aaron Goodrich. This certificate was in the bank several weeks and was finally withdrawn and taken away by said Goodrich. The amount of the certificate was fifteen thousand dollars. There was at the time the bank went into operation I think, less than one thousand dollars. The certificate was taken away by Goodrich, on or about the twelfth or thirty-first day of January. No entry of the certificate on the books of the bank now exhibited was made; but on a small book, the amount of checks drawn by said Goodrich was made and entered, but I cannot say that any entry of the certificate was then made by me. That book was handed over to the present cashier, D. S. Cady, and I have not seen it since Mr. Cady left Lapeer .-I think no entry was made on the books, and no paper or draft received from said Goodrich when he received the certificate of deposite. Said Goodrich also at different times received on his own individual check the bills of the bank, to the amount of forty thousand dollars or thereabouts, for which nothing had been received by however, a small bill for services, &c., a. gainst the back, amounting perhaps to a sum less than a thousand dollar-, as I should think. After the thirty per cent. was paid in there was an understanding that the stockholders might draw out on their own checke to the amount of their capital paid, in the bils of the bank.
